What You Will Learn From Us

- Become an expert in the world of information technology! With us you can get comprehensive insights into the complete field of IT
- The focus of your training is the planning and configuration as well as the operation and further development of IT systems. You will learn the practical use of complex networks, server and client technologies and will, among other things, be compatible with WLAN systems, telephone systems, cabling technologies and email solutions.
- As a service provider in-house, you become a specialist in operating and managing these systems in accordance with the requirements.
- You can take on responsibility early on, as advice and support for users are part of your area of responsibility.
- You will also acquire extensive knowledge in order to systematically narrow down and solve errors in the event of a mishap

What You Bring With You

- You have successfully finished school with a high school diploma, advanced technical college entrance qualification or a very good middle school diploma with good grades in the STEM subjects
- You are motivated by a high affinity for information technology and enthusiasm for computer technology / technical relationships
- At best, you have already gained basic knowledge of working with hardware and software as well as have a basic technical understanding
- You have a high level of commitment and are quick to pick up on ideas and are enthusiastic in respect to technical challenges

- You also have an independent, structured and solution-oriented way of working
- Teamwork, adept at expressing yourself and fun dealing with people are also attributes you carry
- We are also happy to give those who have discontinued their studies in computer science, business informatics, mechanical engineering and physics a chance.

What We Offer You

- Interesting and varied tasks and projects in promising technology fields
- Individual development opportunities and the option to take over after successfully completing the training
- The opportunity to actively help shape the company and take on responsibility at an early stage
- A modern workplace in an attractive location on the business campus in Garching
- A dynamic team with flat hierarchies and Duz culture

Training start: September 1, 2020
